HE DREW A PISTOL And Frightened the Passersby on 9th Street This Morning.

William Johnson, a thirteen-year-old colored boy, caused a scare on 9th street this morning about 9 o'clock, when he drew from his pocket an old "pepperbox" pistol and pointed it at a number of persons who were pursuing him. He had called at Oden's shoe store, on 11th street, and ran out with a pair of shoes that had been left to be repaired. When he reached 9th street Officer Kelly got off a car and went to arrest him, when he drew the old weapon and pointed it at him. The officer did not scare so easily, and so the boy was taken in custody. pocket the officer found a large stone.

Later in the morning the boy appeared in Judge Miller's court, and was tried on two charges. He denied that he stole the Shoes.

The court sentenced him to jail for three days for stealing the shoes.

ABOUT GEORGETOWN.

The Details of the Tragedy as Told by Eye Witnesses-Other Matters of Interest.

Mrs. Helen Keifer testified that she was awakened by Shoemaker, who asked for God's sake to let him have a gun, as there were burglars in his house. She gave it to him and later heard the shot that killed or helped to kill. The gun was returned. It was then 12:39 o'clock by her husband's watch. He was away at the time.

It was ascertained by Deputy Coroner Schaefer that the wound in the head, which at first seemed so severe, was but a trivial one compared to the gun shot wound. The shot was found to have broken the pelvic bone and to have severed the femoral artery. Some shot and a wad were taken from the wound.

Death of a Sister. Yesterday there passed away, at the Georgetown Convent, Sister Mary Loretta, a former mother superior. On her retire ment from that office she assumed the duties of directress. Sister Loretta entered the house of seclusion away back in 1853, immediately on her graduation. Before the tak-ing of vows she was known as Miss Carrie King, the daughter of a prominent newsper man of Washington. Her brother seph also devoted his life to religion and the church, becoming a Jesuit. At one time he was stationed at Georgetown College. The funeral of the dead sister was held this morning at 8 o'clock, the interment being made in the nuns' burying ground within the convent walls. The solemn procession that followed the remains to the grave was made up of priests, alcolytes, sisters and academy pupils. The services were as simple as had been the life of the Lucy Matthews, a sister of the dead man, who was the first called, stated in brief that she heard the two men, her brother and Shoemaker, the accused quarreling. Later she heard the shot fired.

John Barnes said that he, Shoemaker and John Hyson met Matthews on the road near Mullen's saloon and they all went over to drink.

There Shoemaker and the colored boy became angry with each other while disputing a pugilistic point. Blows were exchanged. The men were separated and not gone far when a shot was heard.

On going back they found Matthews lying on the ground bleeding. Took him up and carried him home in a wagon. Then discovered him dead. Hyson coroborated the foregoing.

Mrs. Heien Keifer testified that she was Franz Family, who appeared at the close of the performance, created the greatest amount of enthusiasm by their clever and graceful acrobatic feats. There are three ladies and they appear in long skirts and do the most surprising acts, turning somersults and handsprings with as much recklessness as if they were the usual costume of simply tights and trunks. They are the cleverest troupe of acrobats that has been seen in this city for a long time, and their performance is as graceful as it is unique. Academy of Music.—The nautical panto-mimic comedy entitled "Fight Bells" has been seen in this city before, but that did not prevent a good audience from going to the Academy of Music last night and laughing heartily at the Brothers Byrne and their company. There was also good singing and dancing and the mechanical effects were startling and interesting. Many improvements have been made in the piece since it was last presented here and the specialties are all excellent.

Fell From a Window. Mr. Frederick Coppes, who lives at 2619 K street, fell from an upper story window of the house on Saturday night and received severe internal injuries from which he died yesterday. Mr. Coppes is a one-armed man and had been ill for some time, so that he was not strong, and in an effort to raise a window preparatory to retiring for the night, he leaned too far out and lost his balance, falling to the ground below. He was later removed to Providence Hospital and received medical attendance at the hands of Dr. Newman. The injured man was formerly connected with Heurich's brewery, but left there last June. Since then he had been in bad health and for a time was at a hospital. The story was started yesterday that the Plain, who was a friend of Mr. Coppes up to the time that he killed himself by diving off a building. This story, however, the friends of Mr. Coppes indignantly deny. They say that it was purely an accident caused by his weakened condition and the fact that he had but one arm. Mr. Coppes died at 1:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He served through the civil war in company C, twenty-second regiment of Pennsylvania, in which he was promoted to be first lieutenant. He was the first grand chancellor and organized the first lodge of Knights of Pythias in Pennsylvania, and was a prominent member of the Elks and also of the Fat Men's Club of this city. His funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from his late residence, 2619 K street northwest. The inter-
